‘INTRODUCTION TO WINE’ TASTINGS

Introduction to wine tastings are themed around grape varieties or regions. The format is informal, suitable for anyone with an interest in wine who might want to get a bit more understanding of the subject. They are tutored by John Hoskins, Master of Wine and owner of the hotel. We taste for about an hour and a half (8+ wines from the everyday to the very best). Then there’s an informal supper – 2 courses, a couple of glasses of wine, coffee.

Monday 2nd July 2018, 7.15pm – South African whites – waiting list only

Monday 13th August 2018, 7.15pm – Southern Rhône reds – waiting list only

Monday 17th September – Wines of the Eastern Mediterranean

This is above all an excuse to try some of Greece’s most exciting wines. A country with a wealth of exciting, indigenous grape varieties appropriate to its ancient heritage. We will also try some unusual and fascinating other wines from Lebanon, Croatia and Israel. The food of the eastern Mediterranean is now ultra-fashionable (thanks to London restaurants like Ottolenghi and Honey & Co) – there’s no reason why the wine can’t follow suit.

Introduction tastings are £44 per person. To book see notes above or below...

CALL MY BLUFF

Wine tasting and dinner, introduced by John Hoskins MW

Friday 28th September 2018, 7.15pm

Back by popular demand! A simple concept: we pour you various wines (fizz, a white, 2 reds and a sweet wine); and for each we offer 3 plausible explanations of what that wine might be; you simply taste – and decide which is the right answer, before drinking them up with the food. The table with the most correct answers on the evening gets the applause and the envy of the rest of the room! This is all while eating a three course meal, as follows -

Slow-roast cauliflower with pomegranate, tahini and pine nuts

Lamb shwarma with roast hispi cabbage and hasselback potatoes

Chocolate and cardamom mousse

Coffee or tea with biscotti

£69 per person (and £40 per room discount for anyone staying)

To book ring the wine shop, 01480 458410 or email office@huntsbridge.co.uk. Please let us know of any dietary issues when booking. Payment in full is required at time of booking and tickets are not refundable.
